Q1. What design elements would most enhance the beauty and appeal of the square?

3	public transportation access shelters	Oct 19, 2012 3:16 PM
4	Many of the squares and plazas in other countries make use of a centrally located fountain with a symmetrical garden or square surrounding it, but that is a desing that impedes a large public gathering. To improve/support the multi-use nature of the square, the water feature should be placed asymmetrically so that it can be an important feature of the park but yet not interfere with the open space aspect of the layout. Downtown Portland Pioneer Square has a layout that accomplishes this - imagine the corner where Starbucks/acoustic amphitheatre is with a water feature instead...	Oct 19, 2012 10:20 AM

14	I said Farmers or Public Market not at all important because the farmer's market on Everett is closer to me. Also - HUGE difference between farmer's and public markets! If we're talking a public market (full-time & year-round) then I would say Very important!!	Oct 12, 2012 10:27 AM
15	To many "programmed" activities take over our public spaces, with chain link fences to keep some people out.	Oct 12, 2012 5:44 AM
16	Dog run/dog play areas. Book fairs area. Dance & theatre should definitely be part of concerts- & affordable. Art is best viewed in galleries & museums, so art galleries would be interesting, but not street art shows.	Oct 11, 2012 9:16 PM
17	I hate the food carts - they look like they would attract rats	Oct 11, 2012 8:56 PM
18	Accessibiltiy features in all venues would be a plus including dog parks	Oct 11, 2012 8:45 PM
19	Casual music, but no concerts as they are too big and too loud for a square.	Oct 11, 2012 8:38 PM
20	consider the impact of cars	Oct 11, 2012 8:17 PM
21	Trash cans?	Oct 11, 2012 8:05 PM

Q5. What civic needs and uses should be the highest priorities for enlivening the square?

1	It should be the pioneer square of NW Portland!	Oct 19, 2012 4:15 PM
2	this should be an area that promotes relaxation and fun to help relieve daily stress and promote well being-NO SOLICITATION	Oct 19, 2012 10:09 AM
3	There is already a library on 23rd and Thurman	Oct 19, 2012 9:45 AM
4	a DMV would be great	Oct 19, 2012 9:32 AM
5	sorry, i don't understand this question	Oct 19, 2012 9:17 AM
6	9-5 business turns public places into ghost towns. Upper floors only, please.	Oct 19, 2012 7:55 AM
7	except for a museum, how do any of these uses coincide with the activities noted in the previous question?	Oct 15, 2012 10:42 AM
8	except for a museum, how do any of these uses coincide with the activities noted in the previous question?	Oct 15, 2012 10:41 AM
9	put meeting rooms in community center.. need something that is open more than 9 to 5	Oct 13, 2012 2:24 PM
10	Note - we already have a great library outlet at 23rd and Thurman	Oct 13, 2012 10:06 AM
11	cool kids playground	Oct 12, 2012 7:50 PM
12	Day care (smaller impact) rather than school. Depends what you mean by Community Center - need variety of small facilities rather than one big facility that could too easily dominate the square	Oct 12, 2012 5:52 PM
13	focus on uses that would use the square	Oct 12, 2012 1:10 PM
14	These items only attract certian groups of people. Put a starbucks in it!	Oct 12, 2012 10:28 AM
15	Many of these things are already in place just blocks away	Oct 11, 2012 11:19 PM
16	Cultural needs as in affordable dance, music, theatre performance venues & cafes. Promote art galleries rather than museums; promote book stores.	Oct 11, 2012 9:16 PM
17	I do not understand the question's intent. Inside the square or facing the square.	Oct 11, 2012 9:13 PM
18	PAM branch? interesting idea; not govt offices - that's all done on-line. See above for community center	Oct 11, 2012 8:56 PM
19	I only say library and meeting rooms are of less importance because we have those nearby.	Oct 11, 2012 8:48 PM
20	Buildings with automatic doors for handicapp access and dog parks	Oct 11, 2012 8:45 PM
21	Portland police office	Oct 11, 2012 8:39 PM

Q6. How important are the following safety and livability issues on and around the square?

1	Noise restrictions after 10 p.m.	Oct 20, 2012 10:53 AM
2	what is meant by automobile restrictions? if that means blocking access by autos, it is not at all important. in fact, having access is very important provided pedestrian safety is also maintained	Oct 19, 2012 9:17 AM
3	Should be bike friendly, with plenty of bike parking	Oct 16, 2012 9:27 AM
4	vegetation is very important, adds to livability. balconies 4 or more ft. wide on apartments and buildings that face the square also increase security, community and livability	Oct 13, 2012 2:24 PM
5	accessible public restrooms	Oct 13, 2012 5:44 AM
6	I would like to clarify that Litter is very important, but Graffiti is not at all important to me and should not be grouped together with Litter (typically associated with dirt) when it does provide an active artistic environment. I think "graffiti tags" as opposed to just "graffiti" which could include non-threatening public art.	Oct 12, 2012 6:29 PM
7	Maintenance is everything but so is security	Oct 12, 2012 1:10 PM
8	all streets should be festival streets to make the square go from store front to store front on special occasions and every Saturday in the summer	Oct 12, 2012 11:01 AM

11	Auto driving restrictions; plenty of parking convenient to residents	Oct 11, 2012 8:56 PM
12	Prioritize people issues over profit issues. Include dog parks	Oct 11, 2012 8:45 PM

Q7. If there were a street car extension, bus service, and bike and automobile parking, how would you plan to arrive at the square?

1	parking would be addressed as it currently is in the entire neighborhood.	Oct 19, 2012 10:20 AM
2	I do not support streetcar or Max lines to this area.	Oct 15, 2012 1:45 PM
3	I'm planning to live there.	Oct 11, 2012 8:56 PM
4	Power chair, wheel chair, electric scooter	Oct 11, 2012 8:45 PM
5	Well, since you haven't told us the location of the "square" and I didn't live here 4 years ago when you did the study, it's hard for me - and likely a lot of people - to answer this questions	Oct 11, 2012 8:05 PM
6	I live mere blocks away	Oct 11, 2012 7:21 PM

Q8. NWDA and Con-way are working toward a good neighbor agreement (GNA) that would enhance best practices to minimize nuisance and maximize quality of life during construction. What impacts are you most interested in addressing?

1	Minimize negative parking impact	Oct 19, 2012 3:58 PM
2	set routes and parking can be adjusted for however random deliveries blocking roads cannot	Oct 19, 2012 10:09 AM
3	Designated Public-viewing areas to view to progress	Oct 19, 2012 9:42 AM
4	I would like to see the trees currently in the Con-way parking lots protected and moved around as needed to keep them here. they are gorgeous and make this area more than just a place to work.	Oct 19, 2012 8:10 AM
5	Adequate, safe and near-by parking for Con-way employees	Oct 19, 2012 7:58 AM

7	Clean diesel would be very cool!	Oct 15, 2012 4:29 PM
8	can we let the clean diesel, although well intentioned, just die a natural death	Oct 15, 2012 10:42 AM
9	can we let the clean diesel, although well intentioned, just die a natural death	Oct 15, 2012 10:41 AM
10	Limit alcohol & no drugs!	Oct 14, 2012 4:11 PM
11	Again - very concerned with Litter, but not concerned with non-tagging graffiti.	Oct 12, 2012 6:29 PM
12	I think minimizing construction effects is unrealistic.	Oct 12, 2012 8:47 AM

14	It's one time; it will pass.	Oct 11, 2012 9:19 PM

17	water	Oct 11, 2012 8:17 PM

Q9. In the 2011 Slabtown Plan, the community indicated a strong desire for a “historically significant iconic focal point” in the neighborhood. If you have any ideas or suggestions on ways to accomplish this goal in or near the square, please share them below.

1	I don't care about this.	Oct 19, 2012 3:36 PM
2	There should a tribute to former Mayor Vera Katz.	Oct 19, 2012 10:31 AM
3	Historical images in a gallery or included in the public access areas depicting the history of the neighborhood. Before & after images can sometimes be quite striking.	Oct 19, 2012 10:20 AM
4	New buildings' architecture should reflect the historic theme of the surrounding neighborhood.	Oct 19, 2012 9:55 AM
5	Something with an emphasis on NW like beautiful wood structures representing NW teritory	Oct 19, 2012 9:52 AM
6	I want to make sure this will be a homeless free zone. I dont want 21st looking like oldtown. what measures is the city taking on that front.	Oct 19, 2012 9:52 AM
7	A tree sculpture telling the story of Portland's history, similar to the one telling a literary story at the children's section of the central library.	Oct 19, 2012 9:45 AM
8	I don't know enough about the "historical significance" of the neighborhood to comment at this time.	Oct 19, 2012 9:42 AM
9	A statue of the CF leader that started here. Old photos of the area and description of what they are protected from the weather. Like a picture board that visitors can see the history of the area.	Oct 19, 2012 9:25 AM
10	If at all possible connect a walking/biking path to washington park to explore the natural. Create the look/feel of the port and transportation sense to symbolize Portland trade transportation.	Oct 19, 2012 8:45 AM
11	No suggestions at this time.	Oct 19, 2012 8:30 AM
12	none	Oct 19, 2012 8:18 AM
13	It would be nice to tie the area back to its roots with a refurbished Consolidated Freightways truck and a little history of the company	Oct 19, 2012 8:01 AM
14	Benches or play structures designed as tree stumps, or a "tree stump" sculpture.	Oct 19, 2012 7:55 AM
15	There are many requests for off-leash dog park and basketball court availability. I think a nice water feature, smaller than Forecourt Fountain but like it would be super cool. Many cities, like downtown LA, have nice water features with fountains. NW has nothing like this...yet.	Oct 15, 2012 4:29 PM
16	Keep the grown trees that are already there! Don't approve crappy architecture that is cheap and insulting to this beautiful neighborhood.	Oct 15, 2012 1:45 PM
17	how about a sculpture dedicated to all the truly family wage, skilled jobs of yesterday that have been replaced (as in forced out) by the incessant and inane clamoring for "retail". Good God, what a brilliant solution to the problems of the world, more retail.	Oct 15, 2012 10:42 AM

19	What does this term mean?? Do you mean St. Patricks Church, or do you mean creating one out of the history of the surrounding area? In regard to latter, including historic markers of some kind into the square.	Oct 13, 2012 2:24 PM
20	Take notice of baseball and working class past - this should not be a place just for yuppies	Oct 13, 2012 10:06 AM
21	Is there a historically significant house that is in threat of be demolished that could be moved there and restored, such as the one on PSU compus (on Park Blocks near farmers market).	Oct 12, 2012 7:50 PM
22	My suggestion would be that no matter what you decide on that the money spent be within reason and not out of line with the goals for a middle class neighborhood. One of my biggest complaints for the Pearl is the money spent on Tanner Springs only to have it turn into a weed patch with an unkempt look, overrun by people unwilling to keep their dogs out and their children from running everywhere.	Oct 12, 2012 7:06 PM
23	I would like to see historical images of this location which reflects the past activities and character! I would also think that dedicating a space to a historic figure or concept would be nice.	Oct 12, 2012 6:29 PM
24	Is Tanner Creek anywhere near there? If yes, it's significance could be made iconic.	Oct 12, 2012 4:41 PM
25	clock tower, art installation or combination of the two	Oct 12, 2012 1:10 PM
26	either a stunning art work or dynamic landscape design.	Oct 12, 2012 1:00 PM
27	the design needs to be congruent with the historical qualities of the nieghborhood. no big box buildings. the church can be the historically iconic focal point. put the old church school bell tower back up. Is this the public process?	Oct 12, 2012 11:51 AM
28	an artistic mural highlighting the history of slabtown	Oct 12, 2012 11:48 AM
29	clock	Oct 12, 2012 11:01 AM
30	Maybe a sculpture depicting life back in the early days of Slabtown. Possibly a pile of slab wood in front of an old house with a horse tied to the curb...	Oct 12, 2012 10:27 AM
31	maintaining old historic building facades with old growth trees and possibly sculptures created by local artist commissions surrounded by benches that integrate it all and make it a gathering place	Oct 12, 2012 9:47 AM
32	call it the Slabtown Plaza!	Oct 12, 2012 8:52 AM

Q9. In the 2011 Slabtown Plan, the community indicated a strong desire for a “historically significant iconic focal point” in the neighborhood. If you have any ideas or suggestions on ways to accomplish this goal in or near the square, please share them below.

33	St. Patrick's church seems the obvious answer. I would like assurance, too, that the older homes and other buildings that give character to the neighborhood will be preserved.	Oct 12, 2012 8:47 AM
34	Could some of those painted concrete columns from the demolition of the Lovejoy viaduct be installed? Or is there another authentic artifact from the area that could be incorporated?	Oct 12, 2012 5:44 AM
35	How about incorporating design elements commemorating the 1903 Lewis and Clark Exposition since it had such a huge impact on the growth and economy of NW Portland? From what I've read, almost nothing is left of that incredible event.	Oct 11, 2012 11:24 PM
36	Echo the industrial base that used to exist here before it was rezoned.	Oct 11, 2012 9:19 PM
37	Perhaps some permanent plaques/signs that overview the history of slabtown, as well as some bronze statues (like in Pioneer Square) of famous slabtown historical figures. Additionally, maybe some seating areas & tables could actually be made to look like stumps of wood (cast bronze or steel?) to further honor the slabtown name.	Oct 11, 2012 9:16 PM
38	I am neither religious nor Catholic but, to me, St Patrick's church is the most intriguing, attractive & historically rich landmark in our NW neighborhood.	Oct 11, 2012 9:16 PM
39	Dig up Liberty ship Memorial Park move it over: http://dandavis.wordpress.com/category/liberty-ship-park/ Make a wonderful wooden Slabtown Tower that you could climb up like the Astoria tower to see the view (like the log view tower at the old Council Crest Amusement Park- http://www.pdxhistory.com/html/council_crest.html	Oct 11, 2012 9:13 PM
40	Create new history? people make places historical, not buildings. This should be a revival of the neighborhood we lost when they tore down Thiele Square and put up the gigantic, useless Pottery Barn buildings - these are not for people. It will be historical only if people feel like it is home and not a place to attract tourists - keep that south of Lovejoy	Oct 11, 2012 8:56 PM
41	A patio using the same style of lighting/evening illumination as was used in the 1905 Lewis & Clark Expo would attract neighbors to the area in the evening, keeping more eyes on the street.	Oct 11, 2012 8:53 PM
42	NA	Oct 11, 2012 8:49 PM
43	Oregon's history of supporting recycling, clean environmental issues, women's rights and healthy lifestyles.	Oct 11, 2012 8:45 PM
44	Exactly what is a "historically significant iconic focal point?" Perhaps the Knapp Mansion....oh wait, that was demolished for a parking lot that's used 2 hours a week. Way to go, Portland.	Oct 11, 2012 8:05 PM
45	Something that tells the story of slabtown.	Oct 11, 2012 8:02 PM
46	Not necessary	Oct 11, 2012 7:44 PM

47	A Car-free, pedestrian-only boulevard would wonders for this new neighborhood	Oct 11, 2012 7:09 PM
48	Clock tower or tall special structure that commemorates Portland and neighborhood history: World's Fair? Lewis & Clark?	Oct 11, 2012 12:31 PM
